

1. What do schools need to teach their students to make them fit for the working world for the future?

- curiosity: Curiosity is a quality related to inquisitive thinking such as exploration, investigation, and learning. Curiosity helps human development, from which derives the process of learning and desire to acquire knowledge and skill.
- imagination: Imaginations is the ability to produce sensations, feelings and thoughts.
- empathy: Empathy is the ability to take another's perspective to understand, feel and possibly share and respond to their experience.
- entrepreneurship: The creation of economic value in ways that generally entail beyond the minimal amount of risk.
- resilience: Return to a pre-crisis state quickly.
- confidence: Feeling sure about yourself and your abilities.
- determination: The commitment to achieve your goals, regardless the challenges you might experience.